

“Summer Sundays at Four” Music Series at

Historic Park-McCullough House

July 5

New York Trio: Pavel Gintov, piano; Artur Kaganovskiy, violin; Jesse Levy, cello in a program that includes the Schubert Piano Trio in B-flat major, Opus 99; the Shostakovich Piano Trio, Opus 67; and the Grand Duo de Concert on Two National English Airs by Francois Servais and Henri Leonard.

July 12

Australian-American performer Lisa Moore has been crowned "New York's queen of avant-garde piano" by the New Yorker magazine. She will present a program that includes Don Byron: Seven Etudes for Piano; Martin Bresnick: The Dream of the Lost Traveller; and Modeste Mussorgsky: Pictures at an Exhibition.

August 2

Thomas Bogdan, tenor and Yoshiko Sato, pianist, in a program of Early English and Faure songs; songs from the American Musical Theater and two sonatas for piano.

August 16

Fred Haas and Friends: Fred Haas, piano and saxophone; Jason Ennis, acoustic and electric guitar; Sabrina Brown, vocals and percussion in a varied program of classical instrumental music; Brazilian music; and jazz standards from the Great American Songbook.

August 30

Ludwig Olshansky, pianist, in a program of music by Schubert, Schumann, and Brahms.

For more information call 802 442-5441
Historic Park-McCullough House
North Bennington, Vermont

All concerts begin at 4 PM in the Carriage Barn and are followed by a wine & cheese reception with the performers.

Tickets are $15 for members, and $20 for non-members

